

“EXPRESSION OF INTEREST” FOR HOSTING RESEARCH TALENT ATTRACTION FELLOWS (2016)

The IMDEA Food Institute (Madrid Institute for Advanced Studies in Food) is a food science research institution created by the Madrid Regional Government in coordination with universities, research centers of Madrid, and enterprises. Constituted as a non-profit organization within the framework of the IV Regional Plan for Scientific Research and Technological Innovation (IV PRICIT), it is conceived - structurally and legally - with the aim of bringing research into society.

IMDEA Food Institute is committed to excellence in research and to foster technology transfer to the industrial sector in a truly international environment. More information about the research and scope of the activities of IMDEA Food Institute can be found at the institute webpage <http://www.food.imdea.org>

The IMDEA Food Foundation invites eligible international researchers to choose it as their host institution for a Research Talent Attraction Fellowship, under the call “Talent Attraction Programme”, funded by the Regional Government of Madrid. Official information (in Spanish): document1; document2

Research Talent Attraction Fellowships provide support for PhD holders undertaking mobility within Spain from abroad. The scheme specifically supports the integration of researchers to the Community of Madrid. It also develops or helps to restart the careers of individual researchers that show great potential, considering their experience. Projects last 48 months.

For more information, please see the Web page with all the information.

Research area

The Bioactive Products and Metabolic Syndrome group at IMDEA is focused on the discovery, characterization and development of new bioactive products derived from food with activity on molecular pathways relevant to obesity and diabetes: insulin, mitochondrial potential, pentose phosphate pathway or thermogenesis. To do so, high throughput screening platforms, cellular systems and mouse models will be used.
